Why join the Save Sight Society?

The Save Sight Society is a charitable incorporated society with the main aims of raising public awareness of the causes of blindness, preventing eye injuries, improving the quality of and access to eye care in New Zealand and promoting research into the causes of eye diseases and their treatment.

As part of the Save Sight Society's long term commitment to research, over $700,000 in grants have been awarded since 2003 to ophthalmologists, trainee ophthalmologists, and University Departments of Ophthalmology. These funds have resulted in publications in highly ranked international journals, provided a springboard to further funding and have supported emerging New Zealand clinicians and scientists. Recent grant project reports summarising the outcomes of funding can be viewed at
